Dr. Nicki Pesik is the Senior Advisor for Global Health Security and International Public Health in the Office of the Director for the National Center for Emerging and Zoonotic Infectious Diseases. Dr. Pesik recently completed 8 months as CDC’s Global Migration Taskforce Lead for the Ebola Response. She has also worked as the Senior Advisor for Countermeasures for the Office of Public Health Preparedness and Response.

Dr. Pesik received her MD from the University of Maryland and completed her emergency medicine training at the University of Cincinnati. Dr. Pesik was an Assistant Professor at Emory School of Medicine Department of Emergency Medicine from 1997-2006.

The 7th Annual Arthur L. Kellermann, MD, MPH Health Policy Lecture and
GRAND ROUNDS

Topic: “Leading Through the Chaos”
Time: 11:00a.m-12:00p.m.
Date: February 16th, 2016
Place: James B. Williams School of Medicine Building (Auditorium 120)