Stephen W. Borron, MD, MS, FACEP, FAACT, FACMT is a West Texas native, serves as Division Chief, Division of Medical Toxicology and Professor of Emergency Medicine and Medical Toxicology at the TTUHSC-Paul L. Foster School of Medicine. He is also Medical Director of the West Texas Regional Poison Center. He graduated from the Texas A&M University with a Bachelor of Science degree in Zoology, the University of Texas Medical Branch in Galveston with a Doctor of Medicine degree and the University of Cincinnati with a Master of Science degree in Occupational and Environmental Health.

Dr. Borron is board certified in Emergency Medicine, Preventive Medicine (Occupational Medicine) and Medical Toxicology. He is Medical Editor-In-Chief of ToxED, one of three editors of Haddad & Winchester's Poisoning and Drug Overdose, 4th Edition. Dr. Borron is fluent in English, French and Spanish and has authored over 100 peer-reviewed publications.

Topic: “Smoke Inhalation: The Role of Cyanide and Management of its Toxicity”

Time: 11:00 a.m.-12:00 noon

Date: January 20th, 2015

Place: Steiner Auditorium, Grady Campus

The Emory University School of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to sponsor continuing medical education for physicians.